Sony Employee Profiles

At Sony Corporation everyone makes a difference.

Each month we choose among our many talented employees to profile some that each made a unique impact on our company.

We show appreciation for our best and brightest on these pages so you can get to know the people behind Sony, the people that bring you innovations ranging from the Walkman to the Playstation.

Years with Sony: 1 year

Division: Promotions

Steven got started at Sony after graduating from New York University's Tisch School of the Arts. He has extensive experience promoting the hottest new technology both in print and on television. Since he joined the promotions department, Steven has spear-headed initiatives that have contributed to a substantial increase in sales for CLIE handhelds and VAIO notebook computers.

"Dude, joining up with Sony has been awesome! I'm doing some amazing stuff here, like playing the latest Playstation 2 games and telling people across the country about how cool they are."
